FOREWORD

This publication is not offered as a complete genealogy of the Devendorf family for various branches are still untraced; it is but a compilation of records accumulated during a period of some thirty years.

It was not my intention originally to compile a genealogy of this family but merely to trace my own lineage therein. In accomplishing this purpose I accumulated considerable data pertaining to the various branches of the family and this has been added to from time to time during the succeeding years down to the present.

I believe the records contained herein will be of interest to members of this family and I am pleased to submit them for publication in order that they may be of record and available to Devendorf descendants.

While due effort has been made to secure accuracy there may be some errors discoverable but it is believed they will be of minor import.

As the family name is differently spelled by different branches, and further as the same branch may spell the name differently at different periods, the spelling herein will in some cases fail to be in accord with that now used.

O. W. BELL.

The Devendorf Family

TRACING THE LINE OF DESCENT FROM THE PIONEERS IN THE MOHAWK VALLEY

BY COL. OLA WALTER BELL, U. S. ARMY

CHAPTER I.

The Family Name

The name of this family is spelled in a variety of ways by the different branches as Dieffendorf, Defenderf, Diefendorff, Diefendorf, Devendorf and Defendorf, the last three being now in general use and to which I shall confine my spelling of the family name. I confess my inability to employ the correct spelling at all times in recording the various branches.

My Diefendorf records are not complete and there still exist various lines that I have not traced. I will be most grateful for any information that will help to extend the record of the family and likewise grateful for the correction of any errors in the records as I have compiled them.

The Diefendorf family is of Swiss ancestry. Just when the first members arrived in this country is uncertain. Tradition places it as between 1720 and 1725. I have found but little record concerning the family prior to the Revolution but from the part played by several members in that struggle it is evident that it was a family of prominence. In August of 1763 we find in a list of Capt.

Jacob Klock's Company which marched to German Flatts in response to an Indian alarm, the names of Johannis Diefendorf, Jacob Diefendorf and Jacob Diefendorf, Jr.

Just when the Diefendorfs appeared in the Mohawk Valley is not known to me but it was probably between 1720 and 1730. At any rate in the early part of the 18th century two men of this name arrived there and settled in the vicinity of Canajoharie. They were Johannes Diefendorf and Heinrich Diefendorf. According to tradition these two men were brothers. Some family traditions allege a third member of the family, a cousin, arrived in company of the two brothers. I have however, found no trace of such a third member. All the Mohawk Valley Diefendorfs whose records I have traced descend from the two brothers Johannes and Heinrich. I have found no record of the names of the parents of Johannes and Heinrich.

In 1727 a family of similar name—Diffenderffer—three brothers this time, settled in Western Pennsylvania. They came from Manheim in the Palatinate. The genealogist of that family Mr. Frank Reid Diffenderffer who has conducted an extensive research of the family fails to find any relationship with the Mohawk Valley Diefendorfs.

I will first trace the records of the Johannes Diefendorf line the magnitude of which may be inferred from the following church record. (Fort Plain Ch.)

"1791 John Diefendorf, born 1700 in "Der Schweiz," married 1725 with Elizabeth Keller, died 23 Feb., buried 25 Feb. 10 children, 47 grandchildren, 47 great grandchildren."

As to the ancestry of Elizabeth Keller, I have no information. Thus far I have not been able to determine who were her parents. I have always believed that she was of the Mohawk Valley family of Kellers. As her marriage to Johannes Diefendorf occurred in 1725, it is a reasonable assumption that he arrived in this country some time prior to that date. Elizabeth died March 11, 1788.

The known children of Johannes Diefendorf (1) and Elizabeth Keller, are:

1. George J. born 2 Jan. 1730, died 11 Aug. 1816 married Catherine Hendree.

2. Elizabeth born 1733, died 18 Mar. 1817, married Nicholas Spoon.

3. Jacob born 1 May 1740, died 17 Nov. 1818, married Christina Windecker.

4. Johannes born 10 May 1742, died 26 July 1834, married Catherine Hess.

5. Catherine born July 1744, died 18 May 1810, married Johannes Windecker.

6. John Jacob born 12 May 1747, died 27 March 1839, married Catherine Windecker.

The names of the remaining four children I have not thus far discovered. It is quite probable that either they were daughters of else that they died young. Had there been other sons some trace of them should have been discovered had they grown to manhood.

It is to be noted that three of the above children married members of the Windecker family. Perhaps some one can tell us who these Windeckers were. I believe they were grandchildren of Hartman Windecker the Patentee but all efforts to discover their parents have been futile.

CHAPTER II.

Lost Will and Testament of Johannes Diefendorf

In the name of God Amen, I Johannes Diefendurff of Canajohary in the County of Montgomery and State of New York, Yeoman, thro the abundant mercy and goodness of God in perfect health and good disposition of body, but calling to mind the mortality of my body and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, do make, ordain and constitute this my last Will and Testament and desire that it may be received by all as such.

Imprimis; I most humbly bequeath my soul to God my Maker, beseeching his most gracious acceptance of it through the all sufficient merit and meditation of my most compassionate Redeemer, Jesus Christ, who gave himself to be an atonement for my sins and is able to save to the uttermost all that come unto God by him seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them and who trust will not reject me a returning penitent sinner when I come to him for mercy. In this hope and confidence I render up my soul, with comfort, humbly beseeching the most blessed and glorious Trinity. One God, Most Holy, most merciful and gracious, to prepare me for the time of my dissolution, and then to take me to himself into peace and rest and in comparable felicity which he has prepared for all that love and fear his Holy Name Amen:

Blessed be God, and my body I give unto the earth to be buried in a decent Christian burial nothing doubting but I shall receive the same again by the mighty power of God at the General Resurrection.

And as touching my worldly estate whereas it has pleased God to bless me in this life, I give, demise and bequeath in the following manner and form.

I give and bequeath unto my eldest son George by reason of his primogeniture, the sum of ten shillings and that he shall be contented with what I shall hereafter bequeath unto him.

ITEM. I give unto my sons Jacob, Johanus and John Jacob, their heirs and assigns forever, the whole of the two islands which I have lying in the Mohawk River, to be equally divided between them. I give unto my son John Jacob and to his heirs and assigns forever the whole and entire lot of land where I dwell. I also charge my son John Jacob with the payment of all my just debts. He must also maintain and keep his mother after my decease if she should outlive me, during her lifetime agreeable to her condition in sickness and in health. And if she should chuse not to live with him, or if so be that she could not live with him for want of due attendance, then and in such case, he shall and must give unto her during her lifetime, yearly and every year, the sum of ten pounds, New York Currency. And he shall after my decease, give unto his brother George the sum of fifteen pounds and to his brother Jacob the sum of fifteen pounds and to each of his sisters, Elizabeth and Catharine the sum of five pounds and I will that after my decease my household furniture (farming utensils excepted) shall be equally divided amongst all my children, and I do constitute and appoint my dearly beloved wife Elizabeth, Executrix of this my last will and testament, as also my trusty and beloved friend Philip W. Fox whom I also appoint Executor to act in conjunction with my wife to see this my last will and testament performed.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal the 22nd day of August Anno Domini, one thousand seven hundred and eighty seven.

Henrich Rathnaur.

Be it remembered that on the Twelfth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety one, in the court of Common Pleas held at Johnstown, in and for the County of Montgomery, before the Judges and Assistant Justices of the same Court, personally came and appeared Philip Fox of the said County, Yeoman, and being duly sworn on his oath says that he did see Johannes Diefendurff sign by making his mark and seal the within instrument purporting to be the Will of the said Johannes Diefendorff bearing date the twenty second day of August one thousand seven hundred and eighty seven, and hear him publish and declare the same as and for his last will and testament, and at the time thereof the said Johannes Diefendorff was of sound and disposing mind and memory and under no constraint to the best of the knowledge and belief of him the deponent, and that his name subscribed to the said will is his proper handwriting which he subscribed as a witness to the same in the testators presence. And he the deponent saw Samuel Hickok and Henrich Ratnaer the other witnesses to the said will subscribe their names thereto in the testators presence.

Dillenbeck. (D. A. R. record). Perhaps some Diefendorf descendant can supply further information of the family of Johannes Diefendorf and Catherine Hess.

Johannes Diefendorf 1770, lived in the vicinity of Klock's Fort east of St. Johnsville. He married July 14, 1793 Catherine Klock, 1770-1850, a daughter of John J. Klock and Catharine Fultz. According to tradition Johannes Diefendorf disappeared about the year 1800 and was never heard of thereafter, his fate being unknown. Johannes and Catharine had the following children:

After the disappearance of her husband Catherine married some years later John Markle or Markel. Note the following marriage records: Fort Plain church records.

"Jan. 19, 1808 John Markel and Catharina Dieffendorf."

"Feb. 7, 1813, John Markle and Catharine Dieffendorf."

The first of the two above marriage records pertains to the widow of Johannes, as appears from the will of her father John J. Klock, executed Dec. 27, 1810, probated Dec. 4, 1811, in which he mentions his wife Catherine, sons Jacob, Hanyost, John, Henry and Adam, daughters Margaret, Catherine wife of Diefendorf and grandchildren Daniel, Caty, Adam and John.

Edward Diefendorf and Lavina Meyer had a daughter named Mary, born 1843, died 1888 who married Albert C. Hallan. They had a daughter named Grace who married Cornelius S. Bowman. (D. A. R. record).

Of Catharina and Adam Diefendorf children of Johannes and Catherine I have no further record.

John Diefendorf, son of Johannes and Catherine was born Jan. 25, 1798 and died March 4, 1877 in Little Falls, N. Y. He was by occupation a farmer and served as town supervisor and justice of the peace in the counties of Montgomery and Herkimer. He married Catherine Pickertt. Children:

CHAPTER XIV.

Will of Catharine Windecker

Catherine Diefendorf, daughter of Johannes Diefendorf¹ and Elizabeth Keller was born July, 1744 and died May 18, 1810. She married, date unknown, Johannes Windecker, of Canajohary. It is to be noted that three of the six known children of Johannes Diefendorf and Elizabeth Keller married Windeckers. The relationship of these three is not established. So far as known Catherine and Johannes had no children. None are mentioned in the wills of either and their property is bequeathed to relatives or friends. As the will of Catherine is quite detailed and mentions a number of relatives and thus establishes definite relationships, I will quote it in full.

Herkimer County Wills.

Catherine Windecker, widow and relict of John Windecker. Executed May 5, 1810. Probated Jan. 3rd, 1811.

band unto George Devendorf, son John Jacob Devendorf Sr., two hundred and fifty dollars, to be paid him or his heirs by his father John Jacob Devendorf Sr., out of monies due me from him.

CHAPTER XV.

Relationships Disclosed in the Will

The Will of Catherine Windecker, widow of Johannes Windecker and daughter of Johannes Diefendorf¹ and Elizabeth Keller, is interesting in that it expresses certain definite relationships and implies others. She mentions her eldest brother George Diefendorf and her sister Elizabeth Spoon, widow of Nicholas Spoon.

She mentions also as 'well beloved friends' Jacob Diefendorf, Sr., John Diefendorf, Sr., John Jacob Diefendorf, Sr., and George Van Alstine. The first three of these four were her brothers. Her first bequest is to the above four, conveying unto them in equal shares her landed estate in the Town of Warren with the exception that upon the payment by George Van Alstine to each of the three others of the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, they must each relinquish unto the said George Van Alstine all claim and title to said lands. This places the latter on better than a parity with her brothers in the division of the land and hence implies a close relationship of the said George Van Alstine. What was this relationship? Was he a son of a sister whose name is not yet uncovered? Again in the division of her personal property and chattels she bequeaths unto the said George Van Alstine and his wife Elizabeth, one old mare or one cow. This seems to indicate a desire to equalize the division of her personal property and chattels. My sympathy goes out to the old mare that was thus legally placed on a parity with one cow.

The possibility that George Van Alstine is a nephew is strengthened by a provise in the will that the money bequeathed by Catherine to Jacob Diefendorf, Sr., John Diefendorf, Sr. and John Jacob Diefendorf Sr. (her brothers) shall be immediately paid over to the children of said brothers. This indicates that it is the desire of the testator that the bulk of her estate go to her nephews and nieces. The bequest of two hundred and fifty dollars to Catherine's sister Elizabeth Spoon was likewise to be immediately paid over to the children of the said Elizabeth. The two hundred and fifty dollars bequeathed to her eldest brother George Diefendorf however was not thus restricted and no provision so far as known was made for his children.

Other bequests of Catherine were to the following and included clothing, money, household effects or chattels.

Catherine House, wife of Nicholas House (2 bequests).

George Diefendorf, son Johannes Diefendorf, Sr.

Angel Spoon, wife of Jacob Spoon.

Elizabeth Diefendorf, eldest daughter of Rudolph Diefendorf.

Peggy Diefendorf, eldest daughter of George Diefendorf.

Catherine Crouse, wife of Jacob Crouse.

Catherine Jabrick, wife of Lewis Jabrick.

Nancy House, wife of Johannes House.

Elizabeth Fox, wife of John C. Fox.

The Diefendorfs mentioned above are easily identified. George Diefendorf and Elizabeth Fox are the children of Catherine's brother John Jacob Diefendorf.

Peggy Diefendorf eldest daughter of George Diefendorf and Elizabeth Diefendorf, eldest daughter of Rudolph Diefendorf are the grandchildren of Catherine's brother Captain Jacob Diefendorf.

The remaining ones, Catherine House, Angel Spoon, Catherine Crouse, Catherine Jabrick and Nancy House are in my opinion relatives but the relationship is unknown to me. Possibly they are nieces or the wives of nephews. Can any one clear up this relationship?

It may be of interest to note that Catherine's husband Johannes Windecker in his will executed in 1791, probated 1794 made bequests to Geo. Jacob Diefendorf and his sons George and John. Also to Elizabeth House of Nicholas. This George Jacob Diefendorf is unquestionably identical with George Diefendorf, Catherine's eldest brother, but I have not elsewhere found him referred to as George Jacob. Also this mention of his son John is the only record thus found of said John.

It will be remembered that the burial record of Johannes Diefendorf Sr., states that he was the father of 10 children, 47 grandchildren and 47 great grandchildren. But six of his children have been identified. I believe the will of Catherine Windecker his daughter furnishes the clues to the identities of the remaining four children and that they were daughters.

CHAPTER XVI.

John Jacob (2)

John Jacob² Diefendorf, Johannes¹ was born May 12, 1747, at Canajoharie, N. Y., died March 27, 1839, at Canajoharie. He was known locally as "Esquire" Diefendorf. He was a Revolutionary soldier and made application on Sept. 25, 1832 to the U. S. Bureau of Pensions for a pension for his services as a member of the Palatine Battalion of Col. Klock's Tryon Co., regiment which claim was allowed.

His application for pension showed date of enlistment as April 1775, and service intermittent until the close of the war in the grades of Private and orderly sergeant. His service was rendered under Captains Henry Devendorf, Jacob Seeber, Robert Krause, Jacob Diefendorf, Adam Lype and Colonels Campbell, Ebenezer Cox, Peter Waggoner, Samuel Clyde, John Harper, Jacob Klock and Marinus Willett. He participates in the battles of Oriskany, Burning of Springfield, Herkimer, German Flatts, Cherry Valley and Johnstown. He married Nov. 30, 1771 Catherine Windecker born April 5th, 1755, died January 30, 1826. They are both buried in the private burial lot on the old homestead in Canajoharie. The parentage of Catherine is not known to me but she is undoubtedly a granddaughter of Hartman Windecker, a Palatine Volunteer (Captain) from Annsberg for the Expedition against Canada in 1711, and later a Patentee in the Mohawk Valley. Some traditions states that Catharina was a sister of Christen Windecker who married Capt. Jacob Diefendorf, brother of John Jacob. We first find James Beall as a soldier in an independent Co. of Maryland Militia in 1776. Later he appears as a member of the Maryland Contingent of the Flying Camp of which his uncle Brigadier General Reazin Beall was commander. James was a member of Major Mordecai Gists Battalion. (The Immortal 400) which was posted as a security detachment covering the right of Washington's battle line at the Battle of Long Island and thus met the turning movement of the British Army which was directed at Washington's rear. Just how well this battalion fought is evidenced by its loss. But thirteen members answered the roll call after the battle, out of a total of 415 officers and men. Two hundred and fifty three members were buried after the battle near the Cortelyou House. The heroic resistance of this battalion enabled Washington to withdraw his army across the East River and escape. James Beall later with his Company was included in the 11th Pa., one of the 16 additional regiments of the Continental Line and participated in Sullivan's Campaign against the Iroquois in New York. During his service with the 11th Pa. regiment his name became James Bell and as such continued to his death and so transmitted to his descendants.

The Line of Henry (The Pioneer)

CHAPTER XXV.

(Henry Devendorf Line)

According to tradition Henry Devendorf¹ and Johannes Diefendorf¹ were brothers and arrived in this country about 1720. Their birthplace was in Switzerland. Although some Devendorf descendants state that the above two progenitors were accompanied by a cousin I have thus far found no trace of him. All Devendorf descendants that I have traced pertain to the Henry or Johannes lines.

However I have no record of Henry Devendorf other than tradition. No where have I come across a church or county record in which his name is mentioned. His name is so well established by tradition in practically all lines of the family however that it seems that such tradition may be accepted as a fact. His name is mentioned by some local historians which strengthens the tradition as to his existence. I have no information as to dates of his birth or death or as to whom he married. The following is an incomplete list of his children:

1. Captain Henry died Aug. 6, 1777.
2. Jacob, born July 24, 1740, died Nov. 7, 1816.
3. Frederick.
4. Barbara.

Captain Henry Devendorf comes into prominence in the early days of the Revolution. He served as Captain of the 5th Company of the 1st Bn., (Canajoharie) of Col. Nicholas Herkimer's 1st Regiment of Tryon County Militia. He commanded his company at the Battle of Oriskany where he was mortally wounded by a bullet wound through the lungs. The account of his death is told in "Campbell's Tryon County, N. Y." He died on the battlefield. In June 1778 the vacancy caused by his death was filled by his cousin Jacob Diefendorf², Johannes¹ who had previously served as 2nd Lieutenant of the same Company.

Capt. Henry's will is filed in Albany County Wills and Deeds 498-D89. It is dated March 24, 1772 and probated August 20, 1783. He gives his residence as Canajohary and mentions wife Anna Rosina, and son Jacob and other children. Who Anna Rosina was before marriage I do not know. Some Devendorf descendants state that Capt. Henry married Housetine Moyer or Anstein Moyer. Whether he was married more than once I do not know. His will however makes the wife's name clear as Anna Rosina at the date the will was signed.

Captain Henry Diefendorf and Anna Rosina had the following children:

1. Anna Barbara, born April 6, 1764, died Jan. 24, 1847.
2. Jacob H., born 1765, died July 6, 1847.
3. Solomon, born Oct. 24, 1770, died

June 13, 1850.

4. Henry, born 1772, died Feb. 8, 1834.

5. Elizabeth, born April 30, 1773, died May 30, 1850.

6. Abraham, born 1777, died Oct. 20, 1844.

7. Margaret.

8. Christianna.

Anna Barbara married Cornelius Van Camp, Jr. They had a son Cornelius C., Jr., born Oct. 21, 1797, died Aug. 31, 1871 who married Oct. 23, 1816 Catherine Diefendorf, born Feb. 22, 1798, died Sept. 26, 1874, daughter of George³ Diefendorf, Capt. Jacob², Johannes¹ and Catherine Fox³, Philip W.², Johann William¹. Children of Cornelius C. and Catherine were:

CHAPTER XXIX.

The Crouse Alliance

In the following chapter the descendants of Henry Devendorf, son of Captain Henry Devendorf who was killed at Oriskany are traced. This particular Henry was thrice married. CHAPTER XXX.

This chapter continues the record of Henry Devendorf (son of Captain Henry Devendorf, killed at Oriskany) and deals with the descendants of his second and third marriages. Much of this data is from Mr. Earl D. Selmsler, Freeport, Texas and supplemented by a Devendorf-Pettingill pamphlet reprinted from the Enterprise and News of January 15, 1930. From this pamphlet it appears the tracing of this line has been made possible due to the painstaking care and commendable forethought of Rachel Pettingill who married Dr. Henry A. Devendorf. A woman of marked intelligence, sweetness of character and other sterling qualities which made her an outstanding character in her family, she prepared charts of the various families from which she descended, Pettingill, Zieley, etc., as well as charts of her husband's family and placed these in the possession of her descendants. For this her descendants may well be grateful for it is most unusual as every genealogist knows.

Henry Devendorf³

Henry Devendorf³ was a son of Captain Henry², Heinrich¹. He married a second time Jan. 21, 1797 Anna Maria Lips. Their children were:

1. John H., born June 13, 1798, died July 2, 1845, married Maria Baum.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

This chapter deals with Jacob Diefendorf (1740-1816) and his descendants. While I have found no definite records tending to establish the parentage of Jacob, he appears to be a brother of Captain Henry, who was killed at Oriskany, hence a son of Henry (1) Devendorf.

The will of Jacob Diefendorf is found in the Calendar of Wills of Montgomery County, N. Y. It is dated Feb. 28, 1816 and probated February 1, 1817. No mention is made of wife. He mentions daughters:

Barnabah, wife of Christian Bellinger.

Margaret, wife of George Stowits, Catherine, widow of Conrad Mowers.

Elizabeth, wife of Andrew Countryman.

Francy, wife of John Vosburg.

A daughter, dead. (A granddaughter, Hannah Waggoner, dau of Andrew).

Sons mentioned:

Jacob.

Henry I.

Grandsons Mentioned:

Jacob Mowers.

Jacob Vosburg.

Jacob Diefendorf (of Henry).

Granddaughters Mentioned.

Elizabeth, of Henry I. Diefendorf.

Elizabeth, of John Vosburg.

Elizabeth and Nancy of Conrad Mowers.

Hannah of Andrew Waggoner.

Executors were sons Jacob and Henry, and son-in-law, George Stowits.

Witnesses: Adam Eacker, Jr., James Taylor and Richard Smith.

Residence given at town of Charleston.

Jacob Diefendorf was born July 24, 1740, died at Currytown, N. Y., May 7, 1816. He was a Revolutionary soldier. According to some of his descendants he served as lieutenant and upon the death of Capt. Henry Devendorf, was promoted to fill the latter's vacancy as captain. The descendants of Jacob (2) son of Johannes (1) also make claim to his services as captain. This would seem to indicate that there were two captains named Jacob Diefendorf. I have, however, always been under the impression that there was but one Captain Jacob. Perhaps some descendant can make the above matter clear.

Jacob Diefendorf married Elizabeth Bellinger. Their children, so far as identified, were:

1. Catherina, born April 9, 1766.
2. Margaret, born October 3, 1767, died April 14, 1848.
3. Jacob, born September 23, 1769, died October 8, 1854.
4. Frederick.
5. Henry, I.
6. Barnabah (Barbara).
7. Elizabeth.
8. Francy.
9. Anna Rosina.

Catherina Diefendorf married Conrad Mowers. Three children are mentioned in Jacob Diefendorf's will, viz:

CHAPTER XXXIV.

This chapter is a continuation of the Henry¹ Devendorf line beginning with his grandchildren, sons and daughters of Jacob Diefendorf (1740-1816) and Elizabeth Bellinger.

Simms History of Schoharie states as follows reference two of the sons of Jacob Diefendorf (1740-1816) and Elizabeth Bellinger:

"Jacob Diefendorf of Schoharie, 1781, had sons Frederick and Jacob. They were both scalped by Indians on July 9, 1781 at different localities. Both survived. The two boys Frederick and Jacob were each about 12 to 14 years of age. Mrs. Diefendorf with several female children reached the fort. Frederick's uncle was Rudolf Keller. Frederick was killed several years later by a falling tree. Jacob who was scalped the same day at another place recovered and lived to be an old man."

If Rudolph Keller was an uncle of these two boys who were scalped he probably married a daughter of Henry¹ Diefendorf. I have found no record of this marriage or of such relationship save that indicated by Simms.

Henry I. Diefendorf, son of Jacob Diefendorf and Elizabeth Bellinger, lived at Currytown. No record of wives' names or date of marriage. There were at least three children:

1. Catharine, born Jan. 22, 1806, died April 3, 1883.
2. Elizabeth, born Nov. 24, 1811, died Nov. 20, 1880.
3. Jacob.

CHAPTER XL

The following data has been contributed by Mrs. Harry H. Loomis of Victor, N. Y. from data found in an old Bible which says that "Elizabeth, wife of George W. Garlock, died January 20, 1830 aged 74 years; (church record says 73 years 8 months). Her father was John Diefendorf and her mother Maria D..... Her grandfather was Jacob Diefendorf, born 1700, died 1791."

The will of George W. Garlock, executed 1816, probated 1821 shows him as a resident of Canajoharie and mentions wife Elizabeth and sons Peter, George and Henry. George being the eldest. He devises land in Cortland county obtained by deed from John Diefendorf in 1814 and also land in Marcellus, Onondaga County, N. Y.

Alice Marie Garlock, born May 29, 1899 at Newark, N. Y., was educated at Wellesley College with a B. A. degree. She married May 29, 1929 at Newark, N. Y. Harry Hunt Loomis, son of Leslie G. Loomis and Della M. Hunt. Residence Maple avenue, Victor, N. Y.

I am unable to reconcile the Bible record which states that Elizabeth Diefendorf died Jan. 20, 1830, aged 74 years and that she was a daughter of John Diefendorf and Maria with the birth date of John Diefendorf which was May 10, 1742 and his marriage to Catherina Hess. Manifestly Elizabeth was not a daughter of this John Diefendorf who was the son of Johannes¹ Diefendorf.

It is my opinion that Elizabeth was a daughter of George² Diefendorf, Johannes¹ who died Aug. 11, 1816 aged 86-7-9 which would fix his birth as Jan. 2, 1730. According to tradition he resided during the later years of his life with his grandson named Garlock.

Herewith is a Devendorf lineage which I have been unable to connect and thus far I have no clue as to where it belongs. This line was submitted by Miss F. Inez Baldwin, 167 East 5th street, Oswego, N. Y. Can any one supply the connecting link?

Joseph Devendorf had a brother, born 24 Feb. 1803 in Herkimer county, N. Y., date of death not known, married in Mexico, N. Y., 24 Sept. 1824 Eliza Adeline Douglas who was born May 4, 1808 in Mexico, N. Y. Children:

1. Edwin, born Jan. 8, 1826 in Colosse, Town of Mexico, lived in Rochester.
2. Isaac Melvin, born May 5, 1827 in Grafton Square, Mexico, N. Y., died May 12, 1828.
3. Daniel Douglas, born April 6, 1829 in Grafton.
4. Nancy H., born Aug. 18, 1831, died Aug. 30, 1872.
5. Frances Granger, born Aug. 25, 1832, died July 12, 1864.
6. Washington Irving, born July 5, 1836 in Frankfort, N. Y.
7. John Marvin, born Sept. 29, 1839 in Hastings.
8. Mary Eliza, born Dec. 10, 1841 in Hastings, married Henry Turner of Oswego, N. Y. One son Dr. Raymond C. Turner.

9. Martha E., born March 22, 1844, married Robinson. Had daughter Grace.

10. Frederick, born July 10, 1848 in Oswego.

11. George, born July 2, 1852 in Oswego.

Joseph Devendorf started a tannery in Colosse in 1822. The name Joseph is unusual in the early Diefendorf families. In fact it is so unusual that it seems to have been purposely avoided. It is also most unusual in later generations of the family.

The statement in chapter 12 that Jacob³ Diefendorf, Captain Jacob², John¹ married a second time to Margaret Bellinger is incorrect. This statement was based on a D. A. R. line alleged to descend from this particular Jacob Diefendorf. This D. A. R. line does descend from a Jacob Devendorf, viz: Jacob³, Lieut. Jacob², Heinrich¹. Confusion of ancestors in the Mohawk Valley due to the repetition of given names is not uncommon. A good example is the confusion of the Revolutionary services of Major Christopher Philip Fox and Major Christopher William Fox and the clerical creation of a mythical Major Christian William Fox due to the misinterpretation of the abbreviation of Christopher to Christ. Rosters of the Second Tryon Co. regiment still show this Major Christian William Fox who was clerically created by mistaking the abbreviation Christr. for the abbreviation Christn. There was no real Major Christian William Fox in Klock's regiment. So please correct rosters accordingly.

The Diefendorf data in the foregoing supplementary chapter has been contributed by John J. Diefendorf of Seward, N. Y.

Hubert Jay Stowitts, a graduate of the University of California, 1914 was the only American dancing partner of Pavalowa, the incomparable, famous Russian ballet dancer. He was with her six years on her world tours, and played a 30 weeks engagement at the Music Box Theatre in New York 1912-1923. Having a talent for painting he returned to Paris in 1923 and has fast become famous. He painted Mussolini and other famous personages. The Dutch government sent him to Java where he painted the Sultan, the Sultana and many types of Malays. This group is on permanent exhibition in Holland. In 1928 he went to India and painted many striking types of the races there from Maharajas to Parias, depicting on canvas for permanent record the arts, crafts and people of that interesting country.

In June, 1931 he returned to the United States with this group of large and small paintings. They were exhibited at the Brooklyn Museum of Art, the Museum of Natural History in New York, the Corcoran Art Gallery in Washington, D. C. and at other famous museums west to include San Francisco and Los Angeles. During Jul. of the present year (1932) they were being exhibited in London, England under the sponsorship of Ambassador Mellon. The collection is called "Vanishing India." This designation is quite apropos in view of the seething unrest of India as evidenced by the movement headed by Ghandi.

The exotic, even gorgeous colors of these many types and races make this group of paintings unforgettable. Yogis, Untouchables, Hindus, Moham-medan, Sepoys, Ghurkas; from abor-iginies of the Jungles to those west-ernized by European culture. All are faithfully and beautifully pictured in a fashion both pleasing and instructive. Art critics have united in acclaiming them as an unusually clever and worthwhile group of paintings.

Mr. Stowitts is returning in the near future to the island of Bali, where there is a civilization antedating his-tory and life is a thing of beauty. It is said that every native of Bali is an artist in painting, sculpture and music and every woman endowed with marvelous beauty of face and form; the whole a veritable paradise, such as our civilization with its harsh artificiality and harsher climates could not possibly produce. Such an unusual career crowded into such a short space of time is evidence of ex-traordinary talent.

His will June 28, 1706 devised his holdings to his stepsons Joseph and Pieter after his wife Maria's death. Her grandmother was Margaret Farley, (Fairlee) daughter of John Fairlee who married Metje (Margaret) Beck, daughter of Captain Caleb Beck of Schenectady, who was a son of Henry Beck of Portsmouth, N. H. where town records show property transferred as early as May 8, 1674 to his son Caleb. John Fairlee had one of the New Hampshire grants of land called the Fairlee Grant. Captain Caleb Beck was an inn keeper at Schenectady. Joseph Clement married Anna Peek, daughter of Jacobus Peek, son of Captain Jan Peek who founded Peekskill, N. Y. Jacobus was baptized in New Amsterdam Jan. 16, 1656. His mother Maria Du Truex Peek "one of the oldest inhabitants of the city of New Amsterdam" died before the year 1684. The Schenectady Patent of Jacobus Peek was granted to him and to his cousin Isaac Du Truex (now Truax) by Governor Andros as of October 29, 1677.

The Truax's were Walloons. Captain Jan Peek's wife's mother was Maria De Scheene. His wife's name was Susanna. The Truax's came to New Amsterdam in Governor Minuit's time 1624-29. Phillippe De Truex was born in 1585. In 1640 he received a patent for a lot in "Sants Valey" in New Amsterdam (today Pearl street, New York city). Cross alliance names in this connection are among others, Wendel, Groot, Teunise and Brower. John Farley Clement married Mary Ann Winne who was a daughter of Major James Winne, son of Major James Winne of Revolutionary days. The Winnes early in the 18th century were Patentees of a large grant in the Mohawk valley.

MILITARY SERVICE

Military Service of the Devendorf Family in the French and Indian War and the War of the Revolution

Considering the small size of this family during the period of the above wars, it was well represented.

In the French and Indian war we find the following in the New York State Historian, Vol. 2 page 794.

"1763 Aug. List of company of Captain Jacob Klock as they have been in the last alarm to the German Flatts (Burnettsfield) on Indian Alarm from the 24th July to the 28th July, both dates inclusive."

Johannes Diefendorf (Corp).

Privates:

Jacob Diefendorf.

Jacob Diefendorf, Jr.

The above Johannes Diefendorf appears to be the son of Johannes (1) Jacob Diefendorf is also apparently a son of Johannes¹. Jacob Diefendorf, Jr. is probably a son of Henry¹ and is called Jacob, Jr. due to being a trifle younger than the other Jacob who according to tradition is his first cousin.

In the Revolution we find three members of the family as commissioned officers. Captains Henry and Jacob and Lieutenant Jacob.

Captain Henry Diefendorf was a son of Henry (1). We find in the New York State Historian, Vol. II several references to his services.

Diefendorf, Henry, Capt., 1st Battalion, 5th Company.

Killed in action at Oriskany, Aug. 6, 1777 of 1st Tryon Co., Regt., Henry Diefendorf, Captain.

Records of New York State Library also show that Henry Diefendorf, Captain of the 5th Company of Col. Nicholas Herkimer's Regiment, (1st) of Tryon County Militia was killed as shown above and that his widow Rosina filed claim and received a pension from the state in the amount of £772-16s.

In the New York Archives Vol. 1, page 360 is the following record:

Dieffendorf, Jacob, Captain of Clydes Regiment. No company named.

Page 356 same volume: Changes in the Regiment (1st) June 25, 1778. Jacob Diefendorf. Captain vice Henry Diefendorf deceased.

Jacob Diefendorf 2nd Lieut. Company of Henry Diefendorf deceased.

There has been some confusion as to the identities of these two men named Jacob, but Jacob Diefendorf, Capt. was son of Johannes¹ and Jacob Diefendorf, Lieut., was a son of Henry¹.

The following are also shown as rendering military service in the organizations indicated:

Defendorf, Jacob H., Pvt., Clyde's Regt., Devendorf's Co.

Defendorf, Ja. H. R., Pvt., Clyde's Co., Devendorf's Co.

Defendorf, John, Pvt., Willett's Regt., Willet's company.

Defendorf, John J., Pvt., Clyde's Regt., Defendorf's Co.

Jacob H. Defendorf appears to be son of Henry², Henry¹.

Jacob H. R. Defendorf is possibly identical with Jacob H. above.

John Devendorf is probably a son of Johannes¹.

John J. Devendorf is a son of Johannes¹. He was orderly Sergt. during part of the war.

A somewhat similar list appears on page 175 N. Y. State Historian Vol. II.

Tryon Co. 1st Regiment.

Defendorf, Jacob H.

Defendorf, Johannes.

Defendorf, John J.

Defendorf, John J.

Defendorf, John.

Defendorf, John, Jr.

The identities of Jacob H., Johannes and John J. are as previously given. John and Johannes are perhaps identical and John, Jr. as son of John Jacob.

N. Y. State Historian, Vol. II p. 94.

The Line or Levees—Land Bounty Rights.

John Diffendorf.

This John Diffendorf may be a son of Johannes¹, Jacob son of Henry¹ or Jacob, son of George², Johannes¹. The same reasoning applies to the following record.

Page 258 N. S. State Historian Vol. II.

Tryon County Militia (Land Bounty ights) 3rd Regt.

Jacob Diefendorffer.

N. Y. Archives Vol. 1 p. 360.

Devendorf, Daniel, Sergt. (Regt).

Willet, (Co.) Putnamm.

I am unable to identify Daniel. Have never come across any record of him save the above. He may have been a son of George² Diefendorf, Johannes¹, but that is merely speculation. The only reason for suspecting such lineage is that the record of the children of George seems very incomplete. So far I have identified but one or two. There were probably more.

In concluding the Devendorf series I wish to express my appreciation for the assistance rendered by various members of this family among whom are: Miss Mary Riggs Diefendorf, Central Valley, N. Y.; Mrs. Ellis D. Rob, Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Edith Diefendorf, Limerick, N. Y.; Mrs. Allen R. Diefendorf, New Haven, Conn.; Miss Christine A. Devendorf, Watertown, N. Y.; Mr. F. W. Van Camp, Southern Pines, S. C.; Mr. G. Partello, Syracuse, N. Y.; Miss F. Inez Baldwin, Oswego, N. Y.; Mrs. Harry A. Loomis, Victor, N. Y.; Miss Elfreda Devendorf, Newark, N. Y. and others.

My compilation of the record of the Devendorf family will continue and I will be grateful for additional information from any member of the family.
